Title of presentation:

Being a professional driver

Summary:

The experience of professional drivers on level crossings is even more significant than other traffic participants because they should have professional knowledge of traffic safety.

For this reason, we made survey of the experiences of different groups of professional drivers on Lc'S. The research is divided into five categories: general information of professional drivers, traffic, psychology, safety and culture.

The last four categories are the fundamental areas of action of the safety.guru INSTITUTE. The study also addressed transport companies that are the promoters of preventive action on the safety of the level crossing.
